

Larry Myer says, “I made it!!!”

Larry Myer had a stent installed in April of 2007. As part of his recovery process, he attended Rice Cardiac Rehab where he set many goals for himself. One of them was to hike to the top of Crazy Horse in June of 2008.

A set back the following April forced Larry to revise that goal for the summer of 2009. On June 7, 2009, Larry achieved his goal—he made it to the top of Crazy Horse via a 6.2 mile hike and a change in elevation of more than 500 feet.

Larry sent this photograph and a note to: “The Crew at Cardiac Rehab—thanks to you guys I made one of my Rehab goals. Thanks for all the good work you do.”

Thank you, Larry, for inspiring us with your story. ♥
